Dear [Recipient's Name],

Subject: Notification of MMR Vaccine Side Effects

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to inform you about potential side effects associated with the MMR (Measles, Mumps, and Rubella) vaccine. While the MMR vaccine is highly effective in preventing these diseases, some individuals may experience side effects following vaccination.

Common side effects include:

- Mild fever
- Rash
- Swelling of glands in the cheeks or neck
- Temporary joint pain

In rare cases, more serious side effects may occur, such as:

- Severe allergic reactions
- Seizures
- Thrombocytopenia (low platelet count)

It is important to monitor for any unusual symptoms following vaccination and to contact your healthcare provider if you have concerns. For additional information, please refer to the CDC website or consult your healthcare professional.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
