Subject: Appeal Against Visa Application Decision - [Your Visa Application Number]

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to formally appeal the decision made on my visa application (Application Number: [Your Visa Application Number]), which was declined on [Date of Decision].

After carefully reviewing the decision letter, I respectfully wish to address the reasons for the decline and present additional information that supports my case.

[Clearly outline the reasons provided for the visa decline and your responses or additional evidence that counters those reasons. Be specific and concise.]

Furthermore, I believe that my circumstances have not been fully considered, particularly [mention any personal circumstances, changes, or additional information that may strengthen your case].

I kindly request that you reconsider my application based on the information provided herein. I am keen to [state your intentions in New Zealand, e.g., study, work, join family, etc.], and I am committed to complying with all conditions of my visa.

Thank you for your consideration of my appeal. I look forward to a positive outcome and am available for any further clarification you may require.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
