Dear [Recipient Name],

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to discuss the potential terms of my contract for the upcoming WNBA season. As we approach the negotiation period, I would like to outline my expectations and considerations to ensure a mutually beneficial agreement.

1. Salary: Based on my performance over the past seasons, I believe that a salary of [Proposed Amount] reflects my contributions and the value I bring to the team.

2. Contract Length: I am seeking [Proposed Length] years to ensure stability and commitment to the team's long-term goals.

3. Performance Bonuses: I propose including performance-based incentives to reward individual achievements, such as [Specify Criteria for Bonuses].

4. Health and Wellness Resources: Access to comprehensive health support, including training facilities and mental health resources, is important for maintaining peak performance.

5. Marketing Opportunities: I would like to discuss potential promotional activities and sponsorship deals that align with my personal brand and the team's image.

I am excited about the prospect of continuing my career with [Team Name] and believe that a fair and thoughtful negotiation can lead to a successful partnership. I look forward to your response and hope we can set a time to discuss this further.

Thank you for considering my proposals.

Best regards,
