Hey [Friend's Name],

I hope this letter finds you well! I just wanted to drop you a quick note to share my latest obsession - my Xbox One! I finally got my hands on one, and I can't believe what I've been missing all this time.

The graphics are insane, and the gameplay is so smooth. I've been playing [Game Title], and it's seriously addictive. I remember us talking about it, and I think you'd love it too! We should totally team up for some online matches soon.

Let me know when you're free to hop on. It would be awesome to catch up and game together like the good old days.

Take care and talk soon!

Best,
