Dear [Recipient's Name],

Subject: You Know You're a DAW Sound Designer When...

As a passionate sound designer, I find myself encountering situations that truly define our craft. Here are a few amusing and relatable scenarios that highlight the unique experiences we all share in the world of digital audio workstations:

1. You know you're a DAW sound designer when you hear a sound and immediately think about how to manipulate it in your latest project.
2. You know you're a DAW sound designer when you can spend hours tweaking the perfect reverb setting to match a specific mood.
3. You know you're a DAW sound designer when your friends call you for tech support on their own music projects instead of a plumber.

Thank you for taking the time to read this letter. I hope it brings a smile and resonates with fellow sound designers in our community.

Best regards,
