

Whimsical Letter to Zhongli

Dear Zhongli,

As the morning sun filters through the ancient trees of Liyue, I find myself enchanted by thoughts of you. Just like a perfectly brewed cup of tea, your wisdom and poise bring warmth to my heart.

In the grand tapestry of the universe, where the stars whisper secrets only you could decipher, I often wonder how you manage to carry the weight of the Geo Archon with such grace. Your stories of the past, woven with threads of history and legends, spark joy in even the most mundane moments.

I would love nothing more than to join you on a stroll through the bustling streets of Liyue, listening to the songs of the wares and the laughter of the people. It would be delightful to share tales of dragon fights and treasure hunts with you, as the lanterns sway gently overhead. May your days be filled with unending adventures, and may your spirit soar as high as the mountains you so admire. I am forever grateful for your quiet strength and the comforting presence you offer to those around you.

Yours whimsically,
