Dear Immigration Officer,

I am writing to support my application for a New Zealand visa and to provide a personal statement outlining my background, motivations, and plans for my stay in New Zealand.

1. Introduction

Begin with a brief introduction about yourself, including your name, age, nationality, and current occupation.

2. Background

Describe your educational background, work experience, and any relevant skills or qualifications. Highlight experiences that demonstrate your commitment to contributing positively to New Zealand.

3. Motivation for Moving to New Zealand

Explain why you want to move to New Zealand. Discuss what attracts you to living in New Zealand, including personal, professional, or cultural reasons.

4. Plans in New Zealand

Outline your plans while in New Zealand. This may include employment, educational pursuits, or other activities. Be specific about what you hope to achieve during your stay.

5. Contribution to New Zealand

Discuss how you plan to contribute to New Zealand society, community, or economy. Mention any transferable skills that align with New Zealand's needs.

6. Conclusion

Conclude with a summary of your commitment to abide by New Zealand laws and regulations, and express your hope for a favorable consideration of your application.

Thank you for considering my visa application. I look forward to the opportunity to contribute to and engage with the New Zealand community.

Sincerely,
